In every passing moment (whether you are aware of it or not) you are in either your Endogenic or Exogenic state of mind. Depending on which state you are in, you feel, think, and act differently. These differences affect how others experience you. They shape your character traits and your path in life. In The Duogenic Leader, Dr. Aebi-Magee presents her innovative and ground-breaking psychological theory about our two states of mind and describes how this discovery can rapidly advance leadership, innovation, intelligence, and personal power. Learning to choose between Endogenic and Exogenic unlocks a realm of self-awareness and psychological knowledge. In an inspiring and uplifting way, Dr. Aebi-Magee guides readers to a new understanding of themselves and others that is clear and thought-provoking. As a leadership consultant for two decades, Dr. Aebi-Magee has helped successful leaders improve their companies, advance their careers, boost strategic thinking, and become greater leaders. A native of Switzerland, Dr. Aebi-Magee has a PhD and masters in psychology from the University of Zürich and earned the title of Psychoanalyst in association with the Freud Institute and the Psychoanalytical Institute of Zürich. The Duogenic Leader takes you on a journey of human discovery. Seeing the Endogenic and Exogenic states in yourself and others leads to startling realizations about awareness, confidence, and authenticity that help you live a richer and more meaningful life. For business professionals, this manifests in a new and deeper understanding of human dynamics, communication, charisma, and leadership. Reading The Duogenic Leader triggers frequent contemplation. It inspires ideas about how you might unlock your innovative potential, overcome self-imposed limitations, better understand others, solve problems faster, have less confusion in life, advance your intelligence, improve your relationships with others, be a better parent, advance your career faster, prevent dysfunctional behavior, find more joy, and lead a more fulfilling life. Critical of Exogenic dominance in society and rich with sharp human observations, The Duogenic Leader offers profound clarity and insight for anyone who wants to advance personally or professionally. Broken into two distinct parts, The Duogenic Leader makes an academic subject fully accessible. Part One precisely explains the underlying dynamics and introduces the new terms "Endogenic" and "Exogenic" to describe the two states of being in which we experience every moment of life. Part Two illustrates more than fifty specific situations that show you how to spot repeating patterns of these dynamics in all aspects of work and life. The author sheds new light on topics like collaboration, trust, confidence, authority, innovation, learning, love, motivation, manipulation, authenticity, power, fear, and dozens of other issues important to business, leadership, and self-development.

This book presents a selection of articles with focus on the theoretical foundations of business ethics, and in particular on the philosophy of management and on human rights and business. This implies identifying and discussing conflicts as well as agreement with regard to the philosophical and other foundations of business and management. Despite the general interest in corporate social responsibility and business ethics, the contemporary discussion rarely touches upon the normative core and philosophical foundations of business. There is a need to discuss the theoretical basis of business ethics and of business and human rights. Even though the actions and activities of business may be discussed from a moral perspective, not least in the media, the judgments and opinions relating to business and management often lack deeper moral reflection and consistency. Partly for this reason, business ethicists are constantly challenged to provide such moral and philosophical foundations for business ethics and for business and human rights, and to communicate them in an understandable manner. Such a challenge is also of scientific kind. Positions and opinions in the academic field need to be substantiated by thorough moral and theoretical reflection to underpin normative approaches. Far too often, business ethicists may agree on matters, which they approach from different and sometimes irreconcilable philosophical standpoints, resulting in superficial agreement but deeper-lying disagreement. In other cases, it may be of high relevance to identify philosophical standpoints that despite conflicting fundamentals may arrive at conclusions acceptable to everyone.

The Challenge Continues, Participant Workbook Model the Way John Wiley & Sons

Life is indeed a game that we all play to pass time; simply a series of days strung together, made up of how you planned or decided to spend the moments. Like any game how well it is played or whether life's circumstances are interpreted accurately, then used to the best advantage, makes losers and winners to varying degrees. Senseless insanity is alive and well within the world. The world is awash with unruly forces, that if not intent upon harming you do desire to become a destabilising force, either temporarily or over the long term. We are all participants in a charade, how life evolves and turns out all depend on how well the game is played. It is not wise or ideal to treat life like a game of chance, a random roll of the dice that can determine unpredictable outcomes. The cost of success is the careful application of well thought out concepts and ideas. Like any game preparation is critical; understanding the rules, knowing how to manipulate the dynamics at play efficiently to one's own advantage, understanding the intricacies of the rules and how to capitalise upon or create opportunities, pursuing whatever circumstances are present to maximise whatever potential exists to the best advantage. The potential opportunities in life are only limited by the inability to firstly comprehend them and secondly to fully utilise personal abilities to maximise the potential that is available. Don't wait for special times to evolve, rather create them in accordance with your true desires to experience what you wish to make real. Much like any game, the game of life has things that can be obtained, or things that can be lost. How the game is played, the value of the stakes, the opposing factions all come to dictate an outcome, be that favourable or lacking any resemblance of being lucky. A life lived based upon any reliance on luck or fate being favourable is tempting only to the over optimistic, or those extremely lucky ones or who were fortunate in the past and believe that good fortune will continue in the future. While it takes resources to control the world, the control of your own specific world environment is really within your potential to achieve. How you choose to control your world, as well as to what extent your desires are put into action, determine whether your life will meet your wishes or not. The amount of thought and energy you exert, the persistence of that effort, all comes to determine whether and to what degree what you want is what you actually get. In life you may win or lose at times, it's basically just like playing a game; the right mentality is chancing the wheel of life by trusting and ensuring you will win just the same.

Seminar paper from the year 2016 in the subject Business economics - Business Management, Corporate Governance, University of Applied Management Studies, language: English, abstract: The success of any organization depends on the qualities of the leader, his leadership style, and the way he communicates his aims and visions to his employees. At first, it is important to distinguish a leader from a manager, because often both words will be equalized. The most important difference between a leader and a manager is the way they motivate and inspire their teams to achieve prescribed aims. If you consider a manager, you will recognize that his main tasks are organizing, planning and controlling procedures. In contrast to this, a leader sees his tasks in inspiring employees with his visions and motivating them, as much as possible. The idea behind the leadership style is to create creativity, innovation, meaningfulness and change (cf. Educational-Business-Articles, 2016). This paper intends to show, some theoretical fundamentals about leadership and communication, which will be illustrated through my chosen example "Larry Page". The idea of this paper is also, to connect theoretical knowledge about leadership and communication, with Larry Page's understanding of leadership.

The first work in the new Leading at a Higher Level series offers in-depth, specific examples of how leaders and their organizations have successfully implemented Blanchard's leadership techniques.

A cyanide capsule and a bullet to the head. This is how Adolf Hitler is about to kill himself. The date is the 30th of April, the year is 1945. Hitler and his wife of less than two days, Eva Braun, are together in the Fuhrerbunker, an underground complex near the Reich Chancellery in Berlin. Berlin itself is not yet under siege, but it is apparent to all that it soon will be. For the Allies have defeated the Wehrmacht in the Belgian Ardennes and have already crossed the Rhine into Germany. While at the same time, the Red Army are advancing westwards towards the German capital, unstoppable since their decisive victory at Stalingrad. As a result, SS generals are now refusing to obey Hitler's orders. Stuck down in his bunker and feeling powerless, Hitler has begun to suffer a mental breakdown. The war is lost and he knows it now. Germany surrendered, unconditionally, a week after Hitler's death, on the 7th of May, 1945. The following day was declared Victory in Europe Day. The Second World War on the European continent was formally confirmed over. The war would continue in Asia for another three months, eventually ending on the 15th of August, 1945 - just over a week after the dropping of the Little Boy and Fat Man atomic bombs on the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Germany was in utter ruins and occupied by the armies of the Soviet Union, France, America, and Britain and her Commonwealth. Meanwhile the world had witnessed the utterly destructive power of atomic weapons. This was how the Second World War ended; it was also how the Cold War began. The Cold War would last nearly half a century, with flashpoints occurring in locations all across the globe; from Afghanistan to Vietnam, Korea to Cuba. The real Cold War battlefield, though, was in Germany. It was here where the militaries of the Soviet Union and the Warsaw Pact countries faced off against the militaries of America and her European NATO allies. It was here where the bulk of the nuclear missiles were located, where the troops were based.

Germany - then Germanies - was the true frontier of the Cold War. Following the collapse of the Berlin Wall in 1989, and the dissolution of the Soviet Union shortly after in 1991, the militaries that had based themselves in Germany for the past 50 years started to slowly return to their respective home countries. The military bases, and all the infrastructure that went along with sustaining them, were stripped bare and left behind. The purpose of this book is to document these Cold War sites as they are today, in 2016. They will not be around for much longer; most face imminent demolition, and the ones that don't are decaying and succumbing to nature. The hope is that by documenting how these bases currently are, as well as providing a short history on each of the sites, an audience unable to visit them themselves will learn something new about the Cold War. It was a military stand-off on a scale of which the world has never seen before. We have history books that communicate that scale; that communicate the dangers faced; the close calls and near misses; the fallibility of all those involved. Perhaps this book, and the pictures it contains, can help to communicate some of these things too, but in a different way.

When entrepreneur Len Forkas learned that his nine-year-old son had leukemia, his own life changed forever. In 2003, Len founded Hopecam, a nonprofit that uses technology to connect young cancer patients with their friends at school. Ten years later, Len's fight against childhood cancer rose to a new level. He qualified as a solo competitor in Race Across America, a 3,000-mile bicycle race that traverses scorching deserts and 11,000-foot mountain elevations. As Len fought to finish the race in just 12 days, an all-volunteer crew supported him around the clock. What Spins the Wheel is a true story about fatherhood and fortitude, business grit and growth ? and the power of combining the right mission with the right team to help others.

Leadership By Divine Design: How to Be An Effective Christian Leader is another significant work by Anthony Osuobeni, author of the seminal book on revival, Hashtag Revival. He writes to add his voice to the vast body of literature on Christian leadership, highlighting believers' call to leadership in the Body of Christ. He encourages believers, pastors and church leaders, to see leadership the way God sees it and to practice it in their churches according to divine dictates. Because the more people we lead the more leaders we need, we must prioritize on developing leaders in our congregations and populate the ministerial landscape with effective Christian leaders. Finally, Anthony prays that God's people in the churches of Christ all over the world will become God's designer-leaders. The book is purposeful, practical and on point!

This book will help you answer questions like: What is the impact of our company or organization? What common ground do we share with our customers? Is our company more concerned about enhancing its own value rather than enhancing the value of the people we serve? How can we actually show people what we can do for them, rather than just rely on our advertising and marketing to tell them? What is standing in the way of people responding to us? How is using our product or service better than using a competitor's? What things do we need to be doing right now so we can keep providing the same quality in the future? A great read with discussion questions at the end of each chapter. You can use it for yourself, a team building exercise, or an executive retreat. The book is a great discussion starter for any business!

The Democrats want to keep paying out money even if we have no money. We can print more, they seem to think. The Republican's are cutting entire programs, many of which the average citizen is dependent on, while approving the same old contracts to "select" government contractors. No one is saying, "hey lets cut this 20% across the board." Just cut entirely, or don't cut at all. "Lets cut that position, but lets create a toll road system in North Carolina without the people voting on it to hire road workers. Who cares if it might impact small business owners. " Small business owners pay the taxes and create the revenues, but who cares. We can print more money, they ignorantly think. We need some Independent Candidates in office, who will do what is right for all America, instead of what is selfishly right for those in charge. And we as American citizens need to step up and help out. We need to work harder and smarter than ever. We need to take care of our families. The word "family" is being construed to mean whatever exists (just watch modern television). A mother, a father, and children rarely live together. Communities are full of transient people; in fact most people who live in a community do not even know the names of their next door neighbor. Senior leaders of government and business are constantly in the paper for unethical behavior, which includes a lot of lewd conduct including child molestation, adultery, stealing, and embezzlement: but never for just lying. No one ever accuses a senior executive of simply lying anymore, although they do it more and more every day, and will continue. And, in some cases, it is like it is necessary. It is like senior executives are expected to lie or cheat; and no one cares. Teachers in Atlanta, Georgia think it is more important to cheat to raise test scores, than to be on the level. A girl in Oakland, California is raped in front of crowd by at least 6 men in front of a crowd at a football game, and no one calls for help until 30 minutes after she is laying on the ground unable to get up. Legislators in Washington pass a Gay Marriage Law, without having the people vote on it. Theyear 2012 is a spectacular time of change and movement in theworld. Unusual weather, earthquakes, economic instability, government and business bankruptcy, terrorism, rogue pirates, large number of fish and bird death for no reason; what does it all mean? Homosexuality is being voted in as legal by many states and even the Federal Government says it is alright, even though most states have laws that make sodomy illegal. Oral and Anal sex are still illegal in North Carolina. So, the soldier who wants to be openly gay outside a military base in North Carolina, is actually breaking the law when he has sex with his partner. What changed in 2 years? Only God has the answers. We have moved God to act throughout history by our thoughts and actions. Are we getting ready to see the greatest movement ever in the history of the world?

Dr. Griffiths' Principals of Inclusion is both a practical, realistic blueprint and an inspiring call to action for accelerating schools/school systems in their search to optimize all students' potential (inclusion). In an information age and an increasingly interconnected Global Village, no student's potential can afford to be wasted, especially by exclusionary educational practices/traditions (either conscious or unconscious). Dr. Griffiths writes clearly, using universal metaphors/tactics applicable to all educational situations.

Strategy Demystified brings clarity to strategy management. Determining the firm's current position is the first step. Then, figuring out where the leader wants to take the business, based on current and future capabilities and external environmental factors, is the next. Finally, the CEO must prepare the business to implement or execute the plan including having a supportive culture. This last point is overlooked by most organizational leaders; however, it is the prime reason why 70% of change initiatives fail. Most approaches to strategic management take a myopic mechanical view of the process. What is left out is aligning the culture and the people to the goals.
