This book presents a collection of state-of-the-art work in corpus-based interpreting studies, highlighting international research on the properties of interpreted speech, based on naturalistic interpreting data. Interpreting research has long been hampered by the lack of naturalistic data that would allow researchers to make empirically valid generalizations about interpreting. The researchers who present their work here have played a pioneering role in the compilation of interpreting data and in the exploitation of that data. The collection focuses on both of these aspects, including a detailed overview of interpreting corpora, a collective paper on the way forward in corpus compilation and several studies on interpreted speech in diverse language pairs and interpreter-mediated settings, based on existing corpora.

La nuova edizione della Grammatica russa, testo di riferimento che presenta un'analisi completa delle strutture della lingua, è stata ampliata e rivista alla luce dei profondi cambiamenti sia nella lingua russa sia nelle esigenze didattiche. L'opera si articola ora in due volumi, uno dedicato alla parte teorica e l'altro a quella esercitativa. Il volume di teoria offre una trattazione sistematica degli argomenti della morfologia, ognuno dei quali viene svolto in modo esauriente, indicando il grado di competenza linguistica prevista. Tutti i temi grammaticali sono inoltre integrati da numerosi esempi, il cui lessico è stato aggiornato recependo i neologismi entrati in uso e le trasformazioni socioculturali, nonché ampliando la gamma dei registri linguistici. Il metodo contrastivo della trattazione dà rilievo ai vari casi in cui le forme grammaticali russe e italiane si differenziano, mentre la gradualità dell'apprendimento è stata adeguata alla scala dei livelli previsti dalle certificazioni in linea con il Quadro Comune Europeo di Riferimento per le Lingue.

Beginning Creek provides a basic introduction to the language and culture of the Mvskoke-speaking peoples, Muskogee (Creek) and Seminole Indians. Written by linguistic anthropologist Pamela Innes and native speakers Linda Alexander and Bertha Tilkens, the text is accessible to general readers and students and is accompanied by two compact discs. The volume begins with an introduction to Creek history and language, and then each chapter introduces readers to a new grammatical feature, vocabulary set, and series of conversational sentences. Translation exercises from English to Mvskoke and Mvskoke to English reinforce new words and concepts. The chapters conclude with brief essays by Linda Alexander and Bertha Tilkens on Creek culture and history and suggestions for further reading. The two audio CDs present examples of ceremonial speech, songs, and storytelling and include pronunciations of Mvskoke language keyed to exercises and vocabulary lists in the book. The combination of recorded and written material gives students a chance to learn and practice Mvskoke as an oral and written language. Although Mvskoke speakers include the Muskogee (Creek) and Seminole Nations of Oklahoma, the Poarche Band of Creek Indians in Alabama, and some Florida Seminoles, the number of native speakers of Mvskoke has declined. Because the authors believe that language and culture are inextricably linked, they have combined their years of experience speaking and teaching Mvskoke to design an introductory textbook to help Creek speakers preserve their traditional language and way of life.

"The Path of Humility: Caravaggio and Carlo Borromeo" establishes a fundamental relationship between the Franciscan humility of Archbishop of Milan Carlo Borromeo and the Roman sacred works of Caravaggio. This is the first book to consider and focus entirely upon these two seemingly anomalous personalities of the Counter-Reformation. The import of Caravaggio's Lombard artistic heritage has long been seen as pivotal to the development of his sacred style, but it was not his only source of inspiration. This book seeks to enlarge the discourse surrounding Caravaggio's style by placing him firmly in the environment of Borromeo Milan, a city whose urban fabric was transformed into a metaphorical Via Crucis. This book departs from the prevailing preoccupation - the artist's experience in Rome as fundamental to his formulation of sacred style - and toward his formative years in Borromeo's Milan, where humility reigned supreme. This book is intended for a broad, yet specialized readership interested in Counter-Reformation art and devotion. It serves as a critical text for undergraduate and graduate art history courses on Baroque art, Caravaggio, and Counter-Reformation art.

Jerome Bel's "Disabled Theater" polarizes the public: on the one hand celebrated as an outstanding conceptual dance piece, on the other hand harshly criticized for being a contemporary "freak show." In either case, the production raises central questions on the role of people with cognitive differences in Western society, as well as on basic norms and conventions of theater and dance: Can a theatrical stage serve as a place of emancipation for people with disabilities? To what extent are performers with disabilities able to challenge and subvert the rules of an economized society, above all its performance principle? What would the training of an actor or a dancer look like without an ideology of ability? Do we need new categories of aesthetic judgment? The book takes "Disabled Theater" by Jerome Bel and Theater Hora as a springboard to a broader transdisciplinary discussion on "theater and disability," to a debate at the intersections of politics and aesthetics, of inclusion and exclusion, of virtuosity and dilettantism, of identity and empowerment.
